Chapel Hill became the first UNC campus in the state to hire a full-time Sustainability Coordinator in 2001, Cindy Shea. As head of that campus’s Sustainability Office Cindy works with campus partners to develop and document sustainable policies, practices, and curricula. In this lecture Cindy will share how her role has evolved since 2001 and describe the ongoing efforts of their office to engage and educate members of the campus community.

Three Zeros

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

More information at energy.appstate.edu